BULL SALE

We would like to welcome everyone to our 2nd Annual Simmental Bull Sale!

The Portiek Farm started with Hank and Brenda moving in 1985 to a farm located west of Rimbey. Starting with only a few beef cows, the herd has slowly grown to the amount that there is today. Hank and Brenda practice a mixed farming style to go along with their cattle, producing hay and grain. Alongside the farm, they also raised three children. They are both active members of the Last West Hall board and have been involved for many years. Currently Hank and Brenda thoroughly enjoy farming and spending time with family and friends.

Gary and Krishanda moved to the family farm in 2009. They quickly became involved with hay and grain farming and helping with the cattle. In 2016 they decided to purchase a group of cows to start a small herd of their own. Since then they have beefed up their herd by adding some fullbloods from R-Five Simmentals, Anchor D Ranch, Virginia Ranch, JB Livestock, Madge Simmentals and Nickel Farms. This year they have added a couple more from KSL Simmentals and Richlan Farms. The kids have begun to join the industry through their involvement in 4-H. Growing small herds of their own!

Nash has been my personal favorite from when he was born. Just always had that bull look. One of the best bull purchases I made was his sire Anchor D Blue Mountain. Nash has the same quiet demeanor and presence as him. Nash's dam consistently has 75-80 lb calves so combined with Blue Mountain's 104 lb BW I expect Nash to sire calves in the 85-90 lb BW range that will just grow when they hit the ground.

His sire HEMR Samaurai needs no introduction as he is the sire of great bulls like Anchor D IMAX 250Y, R-Five Sampson, who's currently at Stone Simmentals, and more. Noble is a dark red quiet bull that I have put serious consideration into keeping him for my own herd use.

Tank is as you can guess, Brendan's bull from his 4-H first calving heifer. Tank had a BW of 102 lb which I feel is the result of the 4-H ration that Tank's mother Luna was on. Tank didn't have the easiest of summers being as Luna had a bad case of foot rot. Luna's sire is of question being as we can't match her DNA with any of the sires we have DNA on. This is why he is an unregistered bull. If I was able to register him I would buy him from Brendan and put him with some of my heifers and smaller second calvers, with his small polled head, smooth shoulders and quiet demeanor I feel he would have calving ease.

Moe 85M comes from a long line of producing cows in our herd. Going back to great granny, 85ZS to 85BZ to Moe's dam 85KB who is easy on the eyes and easy to handle mother. 85M is a son of BLL ZAP who was a great heifer bull. Unfortunately, we did not have DNA on file for ZAP so 85M stays as a unregistered bull. We recommend him for cows to bring home quality steers in the fall. HE WILL BE NOT BE IN THE SALE, ON FARM PURCHASE ONLY.

HERD HEALTH

Our herd is under health advice from the Bluffton Veterinary Clinic. At birth all calves receive vitamin AD and Selon-e and are individually weighed. At spring turn out all calves receive Bovi Shield Gold One Shot, Ultra Bac 7 and Long Range. At weaning they receive Bovi Shield Gold One Shot, Vision 8 with SPUR and Ivomec. During the winter they receive Boss lice control as needed.

Portiek Simmentals utilizes Herdtrax, a digital herd health and production management system supported by CCHMS. Detailed health and performance data are collected on every animal throughout key production stages, with DNA results from Neogen automatically integrated into the database. The Herdtrax Maternal Index (HMI) identifies cows that consistently wean fast-growing calves and favour earlier calving females. It is based on a cow's Most Probable Producing Ability (MPPA) for 205-day weaning weight and calf age at weaning. $HMI = MPPA (65\%) + Calf\ Age\ Index (35\%)$. The Herdtrax Terminal Index (HTI) measures a cow's ability to produce calves with desirable carcass traits using carcass ADG, ribeye area, and marbling scores. $HTI = Carcass\ ADG (50\%) + REA (25\%) + Marbling (25\%)$. The Herdtrax All Purpose Index (HAPI) combines maternal and terminal performance along with the number of direct and secondary replacements retained in the herd. $HAPI = HMI (50\%) + HTI (50\%) + Total\ Replacement\ Count$. Cows are ranked within the herd using their HAPI score, where 100 represents the herd average, and higher scores indicate above-average performance.
